

LeTort Luncheon

Some years ago, PFEW was “discovered” by LeTort Trust, an independent investment management company located in Camp Hill, PA. Led by its energetic President, Katie Clarke, and deeply committed to “giving back” to the community, the company became an immediate fan and booster of PFEW. Katie herself served as one of our 2014 Keynote Speakers during Week I and the company has been donating at the “Founder’s Club” level for the past several years, the highest recognition annually given any of our donors for gifts in excess of $15,000. So passionate are they about PFEW and its mission that Katie and brother Dan Eichelberger,

Chief Investment Officer at LeTort, and their father Marty Eichelberger, LeTort’s Founder, recently hosted a luncheon for business leaders from the Greater Harrisburg area to learn about PFEW and its mission. That luncheon has already resulted in a number of new “boosters” of the program with more likely to follow. After the luncheon, John had the privilege of presenting Katie with LeTort’s 2014 Founder’s Club plaque. Also pictured are (l-r) Kennedy Eyer and Bennett Massie, each of whom shared their 2014 PFEW experience, and Dan Eichelberger with Dad Marty Eichelberger. It was a great event!

Partners and Recent Gifts, Part II

On October 1st, the Lebanon Valley Chamber Foundation hosted its Annual 2014 Scholarship Dinner. Proceeds of that dinner go to sponsoring local students to PFEW. Pictured are: (l-r) Karen Musante, Vice President of FFEE; Naomi Pena and Tiffany Seibert, both PFEW 2014 Graduates and recipients of Chamber Foundation scholarships; and Chamber President Gregory Buckler.

The Main Line Chamber of Commerce, headquartered in Wayne, PA, has been an incredibly enthusiastic booster of PFEW’s mission for decades, currently led by President & CEO Bernie Dagenais (r). John is pictured presenting Chamber member and passionate PFEW supporter Robert Lamb (c) with his 2014 President’s Club plaque for a gift of $10,000 to local students.
